8. Disclosure of Proposal Contents

The contents of all submitted proposals will be kept confidential until the final award has been completed by the Agency. At that time, all proposals and documents pertaining to the proposals will be available for public inspection, except for proprietary or confidential material as follows:

- a. Proprietary and Confidential information is restricted to:
  1. confidential financial information concerning the Offeror's organization; and
  2. information that qualifies as a trade secret in accordance with the Uniform Trade Secrets Act, §§57-3A-1 through 57-3A-7, NMSA 1978.
- b. An additional but separate redacted version of Offeror's proposal, as outlined and identified in Sections III.B.1.a.i and III.B.2.a.i, shall be submitted containing the blacked-out proprietary or confidential information, in order to facilitate eventual public inspection of the non-confidential version of Offeror's proposal.

9. No Obligation

This RFP in no manner obligates the State of New Mexico or any of its Agencies to the use of any Offeror's services until a valid written contract is awarded and approved by appropriate authorities.

10. Termination

This RFP may be canceled at any time and any and all proposals may be rejected in whole or in part when the Agency determines such action to be in the best interest of the State of New Mexico.

11. Sufficient Appropriation

Any contract awarded as a result of this RFP process may be terminated if sufficient appropriations or authorizations do not exist. Such terminations will be affected by sending written notice to the contractor. The Agency's decision as to whether sufficient appropriations and authorizations are available will be accepted by the contractor as final.

12. Legal Review

The Agency requires that all Offerors agree to be bound by the General Requirements contained in this RFP. Any Offeror's concerns must be promptly submitted in writing to the attention of the Procurement Manager.

13. Governing Law

This RFP and any agreement with an Offeror which may result from this procurement shall be governed by the laws of the State of New Mexico.

14. Basis for Proposal

Only information supplied in writing by the Procurement Manager or contained in this RFP shall be used as the basis for the preparation of Offeror proposals.

15. Contract Terms and Conditions

The contract between an agency and a contractor will follow the format specified by the Agency and contain the terms and conditions set forth in the Draft Contract Appendix C. However, the contracting agency reserves the right to negotiate provisions in addition to those contained in this RFP (Draft Contract) with any Offeror. The contents of this RFP, as revised and/or supplemented, and the successful Offeror's proposal will be incorporated into and become part of any resultant contract.

The Agency discourages exceptions from the contract terms and conditions as set forth in the RFP Draft Contract. Such exceptions may cause a proposal to be rejected as nonresponsive when, in the sole judgment of the Agency (and its evaluation team), the proposal appears to be conditioned on the exception, or correction of what is deemed to be a deficiency, or an unacceptable exception is proposed which would require a substantial proposal rewrite to correct.

Should an Offeror object to any of the terms and conditions as set forth in the RFP Draft Contract (APPENDIX C) strongly enough to propose alternate terms and conditions in spite of the above, the Offeror must propose specific alternative language. The Agency may or may not accept the alternative language. General references to the Offeror's terms and conditions or attempts at complete substitutions of the Draft Contract are not acceptable to the Agency and will result in disqualification of the Offeror's proposal.

Offerors must provide a brief discussion of the purpose and impact, if any, of each proposed change followed by the specific proposed alternate wording.

If an Offeror fails to propose any alternate terms and conditions during the procurement process (the RFP process prior to selection as successful Offeror), no proposed alternate terms and conditions will be considered later during the negotiation process. Failure to propose alternate terms and conditions during the procurement process (the RFP process prior to selection as successful Offeror) is an explicit agreement by the Offeror that the contractual terms and conditions contained herein are accepted by the Offeror.

16. Offeror's Terms and Conditions

Offerors must submit with the proposal a complete set of any additional terms and conditions they expect to have included in a contract negotiated with the Agency. See Section II.C.15 for requirements.

17. Contract Deviations

Any additional terms and conditions, which may be the subject of negotiation (such terms and conditions having been proposed during the procurement process, that is, the RFP process prior to selection as successful Offeror), will be discussed only between the Agency and the Offeror selected and shall not be deemed an opportunity to amend the Offeror's proposal.

18. Offeror Qualifications

The Evaluation Committee may make such investigations as necessary to determine the ability of the potential Offeror to adhere to the requirements specified within this RFP. The Evaluation Committee will reject the proposal of any potential Offeror who is not a Responsible Offeror or fails to submit a Responsive Offer as defined in §13-1-83 and §13-1-85, NMSA 1978.

19. Right to Waive Minor Irregularities

E. Methodology of Audit

Workers' Compensation Claims

The primary goal for both the property and liability as well as the workers' compensation audits will be to confirm compliance with written Authority claims procedures and to ensure that claims are managed in accordance with the adjusting philosophy of the Authority.

The Auditor will thoroughly evaluate the following elements of the Authorities workers' compensation program. The proposed topics for evaluation and the Auditor's methodology for accomplishing the evaluation are as follows:

Staffing. Based on the Auditor's experience with other similar claims audit clients, the Auditor will know there is a maximum workers' compensation caseload a competent examiner can handle effectively. The Auditor will determine whether claims examiners of the TPA is maintaining reasonable caseloads. The Auditor will also determine if clerical support is sufficient.

The Auditor will identify the input of claims managers and supervisors to evaluate the timeliness and reasonableness of instruction provided to examiners.

The Auditor's staffing evaluation will also involve the assessment of technical competence of staff. Resumes of claims handling personal will be secured and evaluated.

Claims Contact/Communication. In addition to timely contact of claimants and physicians, the Auditor will verify the TPA is making early contact with key personnel at the involved Authority member because prompt contact gives the member the opportunity for input in key decisions.

Claims Investigation. The Auditor will first determine the criteria by which the claims manager decides to conduct various elements of investigation, such as taking statements, obtaining police reports, conducting formal compensability analyses, indexing claimants, and taking photographs.

If independent vendors are used for compensability investigation, the Audit will evaluate the reasonableness of the vendor's fees and the quality of its work product.

The Auditor will confirm that denials are supported with medical evidence and are clearly communicated to the claimant.

Payments. The timeliness of disability payments is vital. The Auditor will confirm that the TPA is accurately calculating temporary disability (TO) and permanent disability (PO) benefit disbursements and paying them timely. The Auditor will assess the logic of the Authority's and the TPA's payment procedures, and the existence of safeguards to avoid duplicate payments. The Auditor will verify the timeliness of the TPA's objection to medical bills, medical/legal costs and liens presented by involved parties.

Cost Containment. The Auditor will confirm that the TPA is aggressively controlling medical treatment and costs.

Medical bill review to confirm reasonableness and individual case management are important tools used to control workers' compensation costs and thus the Auditor will determine the extent of savings to the Authority as a result of these efforts.

The Auditor will analyze any modified duty/return-to-work program implemented by the Authority members and evaluate the consideration of those programs by the TPA when adjusting claims.

Litigation Management. The Auditor will compare the number of Authority claims resulting in litigation with the litigation rate of other similar entities with which the Auditor is familiar.

The reasonableness of attorney fees and the necessity of defense counsel involvement will be analyzed, and the Auditor will determine if the TPA is actually directing legal activity or allowing the claim to be handled entirely by the attorney.

Diary System. The Auditor will comment on the reasonableness of diaries established by examiners and supervisors.

Subrogation. The Auditor will determine if the TPA is accurately identifying cases with subrogation potential and determine the aggressiveness of subrogation pursuit.

Reserving. The Auditor's workers' compensation claims audit report shall provide for an in-depth analysis and discussion of the reasonableness of initial reserve establishment and subsequent amendment. The Auditor will determine if reserve activity is consistently and accurately documented in the claim file and indications of stair stepping will be identified in the report.

The Auditor's report will provide an exhibit listing those claims he believes to require reserve adjustment. A discussion supporting the reserve change recommendations will be included in the exhibit.

Vocational Rehabilitation. The Auditor will evaluate the timeliness and accuracy of the TPA's completion of state required forms and distribution of state required notices and the Auditor's claims audit report shall contain a category to analyze and discuss the appropriateness of vocational rehabilitation (VR) activity.

Loss Experience Reports. The Auditor will compare the information contained in the claim file with loss data appearing on periodic loss runs that may be generated for Authority management.

File Documentation. The Auditor will evaluate the clarity of file documentation. A disorganized claim file creates the potential for overall claim mishandling and the Auditor will comment on the general organization of the claim file and also evaluate the extent of examiner documentation and narrative in the file.

If appropriate, the Auditor will make recommendations for improving the general organizational structure of claim files to enhance claims handling efficiency and will also question the TPA on its internal systems (paper flow) and make recommendations for improvement if necessary.

The Auditor will evaluate the TPA's documentation of proper claim closing techniques with the rule in mind that typically, a closing checklist is utilized to confirm all requirements are followed prior to closing a claim.

Settlements. The Auditor will identify monetary settlement thresholds assigned to claims handling personnel. This review will confirm that these authority levels are adhered to. The Auditor will also confirm that proper closing documents are aggressively pursued and documented in the file.

Coding. The Auditor will request updated coding of claims utilizing whatever criteria the Authority wants analyzed (e.g., body part, job classification or causation) and confirm the TPA is accurately recording this data.

Property, Liability and Crime Claims

The Auditor will thoroughly evaluate the following elements of the Authority's property, liability and crime programs. The Auditor's methodology for accomplishing this evaluation shall be:

Payments. The timeliness and accuracy of settlement payments are vital. The Auditor will confirm that the TPA is supporting all settlement recommendations with a logical analysis of the extent of liability and a thorough evaluation of medical documentation.

Reserves. The Auditor's liability audit report shall provide for an in-depth analysis and discussion of the reasonableness of initial reserve establishment and subsequent amendments. The Auditor will determine if reserve activity is consistently and accurately documented in the claim file.

Case Monitoring (Diary). The Auditor will comment on the reasonableness of diaries established by adjusters and supervisors. This will be addressed in face-to-face interviews prior to the review of files. The Auditor also shall evaluate the adherence to diary dates documented in the file or in any risk management information system (RMIS) used by the TPA.

Litigation Management. The Auditor will compare the Authority's litigation rate with other similar entities he is familiar with.

The Auditor will analyze and report on the reasonableness of attorney fees and the necessity of defense counsel involvement.

The Auditor will determine if the claims handlers are directing legal activity or allowing the claim to be handled entirely by the attorney.

Loss Experience Reports. To ensure that the Authority and its members are adequately advised of the status of their claims, the Auditor will compare the information contained in the claim file with loss data appearing on periodic loss runs generated by the TPA.

Evaluation of Adjusting Personnel. The Auditor will determine whether claims adjusters and supervisors are maintaining reasonable caseloads and will also determine if clerical support is sufficient. To assist in the evaluation of claims handling competence, the Auditor will review all claims files and relate each to a specific responsible staff member.

Indexing. Indexing is an important element of proper claims investigation and thus for each file the Auditor will determine if the claimant was properly indexed to determine injury history.

Subrogation. The Auditor will determine if the claims handlers are accurately identifying cases with subrogation potential and determine the aggressiveness of subrogation pursuit.

File Documentation. A disorganized claim file creates the potential for overall claim mishandling and thus the Auditor will comment on the general organization of claim files. The Auditor will also evaluate the extent of examiner documentation and narrative in the file.

If appropriate, the Auditor will make recommendations for improvement in the general organizational structure of claim files to enhance claims handling efficiency. Closed files that do not contain proper releases will be identified.

F. File Selection/ Workers' Compensation and Property, Liability and Crime Coverages

The Auditor will adhere to the following sample size requirements:

The auditor's analysis will include the review of seventy-five (75) random workers' compensation files and seventy-five (75) random property/liability/crime files at the TPA's offices.

As respects Property, Crime and Liability claims, the Auditor shall, with respect to the randomly selected files, select at least fifty (50) files that have been open for more than one year after filing of the claim or lawsuit. For Workers' Compensation files, Auditor shall select fifty (50) files that have been open for more than two (2) years after the date of injury. The remaining twenty-five (25) files will have been closed within the last three (3) years.

G. Methodology/ Workers' Compensation and Property, Liability and Crime Coverages

To complete the audits, the Auditor will:

1. Conduct an initial telephone discussion with designated personnel at each TPA to review data requirements and timing of the work. During these interviews, the Auditor will also attempt to identify specific areas of concern (not previously expressed) that the Authority would like investigated.
2. Conduct an initial face-to-face meeting at each TPA (pre-interview) prior to reviewing the files to gain a clear understanding of current claims handling policies.
3. Incorporate all relevant internal policies and procedures for the handling of Authority claims into the analysis of the Auditor.
4. Review claim files at the TPA.
5. Conduct follow-up telephone interviews, if necessary, to refine the undertaking of issues.

The report will list the Auditor's findings in an Executive summary. Detailed discussion of each point and recommended steps to improve problem areas will follow in the report. A list of files audited will be included in an appendix to the report.

10. Exit interview with Third Party Administrator management
11. Attend two consecutive day meetings in Albuquerque to present the Auditors written report to the Risk Advisory committee and then to the Board of Directors. These meetings are held on the first Wednesday and Thursday of each month.
